4th Lindau Online Sciathon Terms & Conditions

1 SCIATHON TERMS AND CONDITIONS

SCOPE

This document describes the terms and conditions for participation in the Sciathon organized by the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings represented by the Council for the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings and the Foundation Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings.

GENERAL RULES

The goal of the Lindau Online Sciathon is to develop project ideas and solutions on a given topic in 48 hrs – and to have fun and interact with the global Lindau Meetings community.

The core of the Sciathon is cooperative, inclusive, fair teamwork done in diverse, interdisciplinary groups and in line with the Lindau Guidelines and the Lindau Spirit.

Topics & Groups

Lindau Alumni (former Young Scientist participants of the Lindau Meetings) can pitch project ideas on the following topic:

Physics as a Driver of a Sustainable World

All project ideas submitted will be reviewed by the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings. Once accepted, Lindau Alumni who have successfully pitched an idea will become group leaders of the respective Sciathon group.

Groups consist of the group leader and up to nine group members, who can be Lindau Alumni or Young Scientists 2024.

The group leader is responsible for coordinating the group and contact person between the group and the Sciathon organizers. In general, the group leader communicates with the organizers, e.g. to ask questions about the process.

Participation (as a Group Member)

All Lindau Alumni as well as Young Scientists accepted for the 73rd Lindau Nobel Laureate Meeting can apply for the groups that were successful in the pitching process.

Once a group has reached ten group members, including the group leader, no further application for that group will be possible.

The organizers reserve the right to combine or split groups, in coordination with the respective group leaders.

Group Results

Groups must document their results of the 48-hour Sciathon in a final report (up to five pages) that groups must hand in before to the closing event (21 April, 17:00 CEST).

2 SCIATHON TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Groups shall also create a 2-minute video about the project, to be delivered on 22 April 2024, 17:00 CEST. The video and the report may be released on the Sciathon website and, if applicable, through the Lindau Meetings' online platforms.

A review panel will evaluate the projects and select the most promising project groups. Representatives of the selected project groups will receive the opportunity to present their concept during the Sciathon Forum at the 73rd Lindau Nobel Laureate Meeting.

Projects can be withdrawn from the Sciathon until the day before the registration for the working groups starts in late March 2024.

If the author notifies the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings after this point that they cannot participate in the Sciathon they allow the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings to proceed with this working group. The author of the initial project proposal will be named in the final paper and the presentation of the group result as applicable.

3 SCIATHON TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Results Obtained During Sciathon

The results obtained during the Sciathon are the intellectual property of the participating Lindau Alumni and Young Scientists. The results of the Sciathon may be published in journals, used for further research etc. The participant agrees to acknowledge the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings in any presentation and/or publication based on the results obtained during the Sciathon.

All results obtained during the Sciathon and entered into the competition must be the work of members of the respective group. All group members who actively participated in the group work should be listed on the final paper. Advice or help from third parties is only permitted in the case of subordinate, technical questions and must be acknowledged accordingly.

Plagiarism Disclaimer

All participants of the Sciathon declare that all sources and aids used have been indicated as such. All texts either quoted directly or paraphrased have been indicated by in-text citations. Full bibliographic details are given in the list of works cited, which also contains internet sources including URL and access date.

Multimedia License Rights

The Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings are authorised to use every participant's name, voice, photograph, likeness, and biographic information as well as recordings submitted for evaluation to the Sciathon, recordings submitted for social media use and written reports, in any medium for educational purposes and non-commercial use (including limited general news coverage).

By participating in the Sciathon and/or submitting materials the participant grants the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings and its assignees and licensees a perpetual, non-exclusive, transferable, royalty-free worldwide license to use, copy, modify, publicly display, publicly perform, broadcast and distribute the aforementioned materials without limitation via internet, intranets and other technologies currently existing or later created.

Therefore, the participant acknowledges that the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings own all rights to use recordings and materials and their written transcription for its own purpose, and to distribute recordings and their written transcription in any medium, including in electronic format via the Internet.
